SCALPERS IN DANGER

STATE LAW TO BE ENFORCED BY NDIANA RAILWAYS.

Text of an Act Passed in 1881 that Is Disregarded by Many Transportation Companies.

The general passenger agents of a number of roads in Indiana are about to take steps, it is stated, to strengthen the roads in Illinois in their fight against the scalpers by enforcing the law against scalping tickets in Indiana. While not as severe as is the Illinois law, it is rigid enough to give the scalpers in this State a good deal of annoyance. An ex-judge, in speaking of the laws of Indiana regarding the sale of tickets, said he did not believe that one person in twenty-five knew that every Indiana road was obliged to redeem at full price any ticket it sold, if it was not used. Persons, he said, would either throw such tickets away, thinking them of no value, or would go to a scalper and sacrifice a half dollar or dollar, if not more, thinking they had struck a bargain. There were, he said, several other important points statutes regarding the of tickets, which, if the law was enforced, would give the person dealing with a scalper trouble as well as the scalper. Below is published the law in this matter as passed in 1881, and now in Party Rates.

The Western Passenger Association lines met at Chicago yesterday to consider the question of east-bound emigrant business. but after an informal discussion the matter went over until to-day. An effort was made to settle the question of rates for parties of ten or over, but before the excursion business could be settled with any accuracy it was found necessary to find out just what amount of business the different lines had contracted for. It is generally known that some of the lines have made arrangements to handle a large amount of business of this kind during the coming summer, and others have not contracted for a single passenger. Facts and figures will be submitted at the meeting to-day and an effort will be made to have the matter arranged before evening. Owing to the amount of evidence which will be submitted, however, it is doubtful if the thing arranged in one

E. & W. Officers Elected. At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Elkhart & Western railway, held at Elkhart yesterday, the following board of directors was elected: H. E. Bucklen, E. C. Bickel, C. H. Winchester, J. L. Broderick, J. R. Beardslev, H. C. Dodge, A. E. Warfield, W. C. Davis and S. Maxon, E. Bucklin was elected president; J. R. eardsley, first vice president; A. E. One hundred thousand ollars in bonds was voted to complete the road from Mishawaka to South Bend.

Homeseckers' Excursions.

The Ohio-river lines held a meeting at Chicago yesterday for the purpose of considering rates for homeseckers' excursions to points in the South announced by lines south of the Ohio river. It was finally agreed that the lines north of the river ald join in the excursions announced for May 29 and June 5. It is undecided whether they will join in the excursions on other dates or not.

these shops has paid out $30,000,000. C. C. The Big Four, which has never run compartment sleeping cars on its lines, is having four elegant compartment cars built at the Wagner palace car works, which are to be run between Cincinnati and Chicago.

The Wisconsin Central, which recently withdrew from the Western Passenger Association, announces that after June 1 it will make rates of 2 cents per mile for parties of ten or more. Doubtless, they will fix the maximum charge for party rates in all Western territory. Passenger men informed as to the posi tion of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, say that James Barker, general passeneger agent, is fully justified in throwing down the bars on passenger rates until the com-petitors of the M., K. & T. acknowledge its importance as a Texas line. The Order of Railway Telegraphers has appointed a committee to select a place for headquarters, and the following places are being considered: Indianapolis, Terre Haute, Fort Wayne and Cleveland, with a strong leaning toward Indianapolis on the part of the delegates attending the annual

The rate war in the Southwest, which the roads hope now to supplement with an iron-clad agreement, has been an expensive one to the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Since July 1, 1893, the beginning of the com pany's fiscal year, the gross earnings fall $6,319,729 below those of the corresponding period in the preceding year, a figure difficult for the average man to grasp.

The business men and traveling salesmen are disappointed over the delay of the Mo non in putting on a morning train out of Indianapolis, at least as far north as Frankfort, Ind., where connection would be made with several lines centering there. The local accommodation of the Monon of its Indianapolis division could hardly more inconveniently arranged than now. An agreement has been reached between the managers of the lake lines and the executive committee of the trunk lines whereby lake and rail rates are to be restored June 7 to the basis of the tariff of April 2 for all classes of freight except flour and grain products, which will be advanced 15 cents per 100 pounds, Chicago to New York; from Duluth, 171/2 cents, and Minneapolis,

D. G. Edwards, general passenger agent of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton, was in the city yesterday, and closed the deal leasing the room at the northeast corner of Washington and Meridian streets for the C., H. & D. and Monon up-town ticket office, which will be fitted up attractively. He expects to open the office June 10. The ratiroad companies are fast picking up the best corners on Washington street, and this is second to none.

William Dragoo, who has been in the employ of the Pennsylvania lines thirty-five years, the last few years running as bag-gagemaster on Trains 20 and 21, will in a short time retire from railroading, having purchased a farm of three hundred acres in Ohio. During the thirty-five years Mr. Dragoo has been in the employ of the company his name has not been off of the pay rolls, neither has he lost a day on account of neglect of duty or suspension.

Just as Train 18, on the St. Louis division of the Big Four, yesterday neared Grant Station a striking miner attempted to cross the track ahead of the train, which was running very rapidly, and he was struck by the locomotive and thrown fully one dred feet over into an adjoining field. The train was stopped and the remains were taken up and brought to the station. This made the train twenty-two minutes late but it arrived at Indianapolis on time, making the run from Danville, eighteen miles to the Belt road, in seventeen minutes, and from Danville to the Union Station in twenty-one minutes.

JAMES A. SHEARER'S DEATH.

Dropped Out of a Funeral Procession and Expired.

James A. Shearer, a saloon keeper at No. 24 North Delaware street, died suddenly yesterday afternoon, at 2:15 o'clock, in the pool room of the Denison Hotel. A few moments before his death he was walking with the Order of Red Men, of which he was a member, and which was following the funeral procession of William Selking, the saloon keeper, who committed suicide last Tuesday. He complained to a companion of feeling ill. The companion advised him to drop out of the ranks, which Shearer did, followed by his companion. Shearer said he was feeling too ill to stand up, and his companion led him to the pool room of the Denison Hotel by reaching the room Shearer sat down in chair and leaned his head against the side of a window, and died almost immediately. Coroner Beck was summoned before Shearer's body was removed from the pool room. He is of the opinion that Shearer's death was caused by apoplexy.

Shearer was forty-five years old. He resided with his wife, at No. 1571/2 East Washington street. He was a large, portly man, and the picture of good health. Samuel H. Shearer, of the Western Paving and Supply Company, and formerly the city civil engineer, is his brother.

The funeral services will be held this afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The services will be in charge of the Order of Red Men and K of P., of which Mr. Shearer was a member. The remains will be interred at Crown Hill Cemetery.

AN OLD LADY'S TRADE

ESTHER A. BRISTOR CHARGES GEO. BAILEY AND OTHERS WITH FRAUD.

Parke County Land Without Coal-Judge Cox Releases the Opium Dive Keeper.

Esther A. Bristor, infil.n and over seveny years of age, is the plaintiff in a suit before Judge Winters, to set aside a deed of conveyance made to David and Flora Cooper, in April, 1893. George Bailey, the confidential agent of the old lady, is a party defendant to the suit. Mrs. Bristor alleges that she was basely defrauded out of a valuable piece of property through the machinations of the Coopers, and her agent, Bailey. Prior to the making of the deed, which transferred her possessions to the Coopers, Mrs. Bristor had about $600 in cash and a plat of land in Marion county, which she valued at $5,000. It is charged by her that in April, 1893, the Coopers conspired with Bailey to trade her certain Parke county 'land, which, it was represented, was rich in coal mines, and worth $10,000. In addition to taking her Marion county property as part payment the defendants, she says, also secured the $600 possessed by the plaintiff. It is averred that the agent Bailey promised her that as soon as she acquired the title to the Parke county lans he would sell the same to a "Mr. Armstrong," described as a "tall, slim man." Relying upon her confidence in the agent, his representation as to the quality of the land and his statement that "Mr. Armstrong" stood ready to purchase, she consented to the deal, she says, and conveyed by warranty deed her right to the Marion county property to the Coopers. Throughout the year 1892, she says that Bailey continued to assure her that "Armstrong" was ready to purchase her Parke county land, but that he always had an excuse for delaying the sale. Some time after the trade had been effected Mrs. Bristor claims to have learned that Bailey and Cooper divided between them the $600 cash payment she had made, and this opened her eyes to the fact that she ought to investigate her new purchase. For the first time she visited the Parke county land and found, she says, that she had been taken in. There was no coal shaft and the land showed no indications of yielding coal She says she found it inaccessible and worthless and immediately brought suit, which has been pending for several months. About this time the plaintiff learned, she claims, that the man "Armstrong" existed only in the mind of her agent Bailey. She wants the deed canceled, and a judgment for $1,000, or in the event that Cooper has incapacitiated himself for re-conveying the real estate, she asks the court to render a judgment against the defendants for

OPIUM DIVE KEEPER RELEASED. Judge Cox Discharges Moy Sing, Who

Was Once Convicted. Moy Lee Sing, charged with maintaining public nuisance at 34 Monument place, was acquitted in the Criminal Court yesterday. Witnesses testified that Moy was caught running an opium den equipped with all appliances necessary to the business, but the prosecution was not able to prove the den a nuisance to the neighborhood, because the fumes of opium did not pen-etrate beyond the walls of the room. Judge Cox stated that the prisoner had undoubtedly violated the laws of morality, but from the evidence he had done nothing that would convict him.

FORGER CLARK SENTENCED. He Told the Court He Was a Graduate of Yale. James Clark pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery in the Criminal Court, yesterday, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for three years. Clark's real name is said to be Cunningham, and he claims to be a graduate of Yale College. He is a man of good address, about thirty years of age. Two weeks ago he forged the name "Stalhut" to a mortgage on a piece of property on Massachusetts avenue in order to secure a loan of $2,500. The transaction was made with the firm of Albert Metzger & Co., who were about to turn over the money when they discovered that Clark was a fraud. He was at once arrested and confessed the crime of forgery. He appeared penitent when brought into court yesterday, and said that he was grateful to the judge for the light sentence. His mother, to whom he appealed for aid after his arrest, died last week in Massachusetts. To Judge Cox the prisoner made the state ment that he was a graduate of Yale College and that he lived near Boston. He insisted that this was his first offense.

The Nonconformist Involved.

The damage suit of Leo Vincent against Leroy Templeton, one of the proprietors of the Nonconformist, came up before Judge Bartholomew yesterday, but was continued until Monday. Leo Vincent, the plaintiff, claims $5,000 damages for an alleged breach of contract on the part of the defendants, Templeton, East, Craig and Stockwell. Vin-cent formerly owned the paper, but trans-ferred the property to his brother, Henry Vincent, who, in turn, sold it to the de-fendants. The plaintiff avers that a certain contract made with his brother and afterwards assumed by the defendants has been violated greatly to his damage. The | Nonconformist is the Populist organ published in the Cyclorama Building.

The Costs Against Mrs. Rafferty. Judge Bartholomew yesterday sustained the demurrer of the town of Haughville to the complaint of Mary Rafferty. Mrs. Rafferty brought suit to recover the reward money offered for the arrest and conviction of Lon Henderson, the murderer of John Tarpey. The defendant demurred, setting up the claim that the town of Haughville and its trustees had no legal right to offer a reward, and that the promise of such reward should have come under the jurisdiction of the State. The court decided that Mrs. Rafferty was not entitled to the reward in the premises, and assessed the costs of the case to her. Police Court Cases. Charles Hubbard was fined $50 and costs by Judge Stubbs, yesterday, for selling lottery tickets. He appealed the case to the Criminal Court. Fred Lukin and Ed Emrich were held to the grand jury, charged with petit larceny and grand larceny. The bond was placed at $1,500 for each of them, in default of which they were placed in jail.

Sues the Street-Car Company. Jeanie V. Smith, who was injured by an electric car at the corner of Illinois and St. Clair streets, two or three weeks ago, vesterday filed a suit for damages against the Citizens' Street-railroad Company. She alleges gross carelessness on the part o way of the Wabash-street entrance. On the conductor. Three thousand dollars is the amount asked for in the complaint.

Vice President of the Indiana Bicycle Works Dies of Peritonitis.

Henry E. Galloway, aged thirty-two, president of the Indianapolis Rubber Company and vice president of the Indiana Bicycle Company, died yesterday morning at the Denison Hotel from peritonitis. Until recently he said he had never known a day's illness. During the Wednesday night May festival concert he was taken ill and was obliged to leave the hall. Arriving at his room in the hotel he became very ill and Dr. Combs was called. The Doctor pronounced his illness a severe case of stomach trouble. Thursday morning he felt so much improved that he went to the office of the Indiana Bicycle Company, notwithstanding the orders of his physician to remain in his room. At his office he was prostrated with a renewed attack of his illness and Dr. Combs was hurriedly summoned and had Mr. Galloway removed to his room in the Denison Hotel. Mr. Galloway grew rapidly worse and Drs. Cook and Jameson were called in. However, Mr. Galloway continued to grow worse until his death.

Mr. Galloway was born in Northfield, Cook county, Illinois, in 1862. He received an education in the public and high schools of that city, and, having developed a rare understanding of mechanics, he accepted a situation on the cabinet makers' bench in the shops of the Pullman Palace Car Company. He soon became foreman and afterwards went into the main office as a draftsman. Later, he became a traveling salesman for the Drummond Machine Company, and soon after was made manager of the Chicago branch. He resigned this position to accept a situation with Post & Co., of Cincinnati, and on the dissolution of that company he accepted a po-sition with Kinsey & Co., of Cincinnati. During these years he made hosts of friends in Ohio and Indiana, and especially in this city. He remained with Kinsey & Co. for eight years. At the beginning of this year he came to this city as vice president of the Indiana Bicycle Company. His ability in business and his social characteristics were recognized by all who knew him. His remains were taken in charge by relatives, who will take them to Chicago for burial. The bicycle works will be closed to-day.

UNBALANCED HER MIND.

Mrs. Carrie Holke Affected by a Salute at Crown Hill.

Mrs. Carrie Holke, residing at No. 54 Mayhew street, who became violently insane through grief over the death of her husband, was taken to the police station yesterday, by Captain Quigley, and will be taken to the Central Hospital for the Insane probably to-day. About a year ago, while Mrs. Holke was confined in the hospital for the theam, her mind being slightly affected, her husband, residing at Columbus, Ind., died and was buried without his wife seeing his remains. A short time afterwards Mrs. Holke was released from the hospital, having been pronounced cured. She came to this city to live. At her request her husband's body was brought to this city last Sunday, and was buried at Crown Hill. She was much grieved, and visited the grave every day. Thursday she went to the grave to put some flowers on ft, and, while there, saw several artillerymen firing salutes, practicing for Memorial day exercises. The scene greatly excited Mrs. Holke. On returning home she got a revolver and fired a number of shots while standing in her front yard, all the while uttering tragic sentences about her husband's grave. The shots created much excitement, and one old colored woman claimed to have been hit. An investigation, however, revealed that she was only badly frightened. Mrs.

The sister attempted to rescue her brother from his peril, but the wagon and horse were upon him before she was able to do so. The little fellow was struck by the horse's hoofs in several places and a wheel of the wagon passed over his body. He was picked up unconscious and carried to his home. Po-
